Feedback:

Stakeholder was taken through the suite of features included in the sprint 3 release, including the friend code as well as the suite of features that allowed the customer to provide input on their trip suggestions. The AI feature was not ready to be shown, but the stakeholder expressed understanding at the current state of the project. Overall the stakeholder was very impressed with the work so far and found the progress thus far to be “very impressive” and was excited to see how the project would pan out by the end of sprint 4.
